PRESENTING THE ## Dedication

Books are the source of knowledge, carrying us through high school, giving us ideas of vocations that appeal to us and for which we have the ability. They are the means of teaching us the variety in the forms of living in all nations, helping us to understand why nations have different customs, religions, living standards, and attitudes toward life. Amy Lowell has said, "For books are more than books, they are the life, the very heart and core of ages past, the reason why men lived and worked and died, the essence and quintessence of their lives."

Superintendent of Schools

As we look in retrospect at another year in the history of Clinton High School, certain facts come to mind. It has been another war year. None of the students now in high school can look back to a high school experience under the more normal conditions of peace. Yet, there is much in the past year to which we can look back with satisfaction. In spite of conditions, we have succeeded in maintaining a good faculty and a high standard of classroom work. We have had the most successful year in athletics enjoyed by Clinton High School for many years. We have continued a well-rounded program of activities to provide for the varied interests of our students. Our seniors can leave our school with a feeling of pride that they have helped to keep it a good high school in spite of adverse conditions.

Board of Education

Thomas Gray, Mrs. I. A. Cornell, J. R. Mounce (superintendent), E. W. Holle, Victor Sorensen (secretary), Merritt L. Sutton, H. D. Seiler, L. E. Seevers.

Not in picture: E. H. Jorgensen (treasurer), Kenneth Anderson.

Mr. Holle, now president of the board, is on his third term of office which will end in 1947, while Mrs. Cornell and Mr. Seiler are serving for a second term. The term expires for Messrs Gray, Anderson, Seevers, and Jorgensen (treasurer) in 1946. The others continue in office until 1948.

Class of 1945

By Carol Wagner

We are not the first of the Class of 1945 to leave the halls of Clinton High. The first left in 1944 when Dick Anderson and Norbert Bossen enlisted, and already we miss Kenny Weaver, Jack Reed, Howard Wegener, Larry Petersen, Gilbert Leslie, Charles Sheen, Dale Petersen, LeRoy Schoenig, Bob Behr, Bill Newkirk, Don Shelko, and Gene Ugarph.

As a class we have many memories. We remember the Monday, four years ago, when we filed into the auditorium to hear President Roosevelt ask Congress to declare war against Japan. We remember a Monday this May when we took our places to celebrate VE Day. We remember war stamp drives and clothing-for-Russia drives, Red Cross drives, and collections of comic books for Schick. We remember Mr. Findley who taught social studies and joined the navy in 1942. We remember air raid drills in the lower hall. We remember ten-cent hamburgers that used to be a nickel. We remember that home room of Mr. Herkelmann's with its wonderful war stamp record. We remember our senior class president who left in January for the navy.

But, our memories go back to a time before there was a war—to the first time we got together as a class. It was in 1938 when we first said "hello" as fifth graders from eight schools taking part in a music festival under the direction of Miss Alice McCarthy. That was also our first visit as a class to Clinton High. The next year we put on an operetta, "The Prince of Pedlars," with Jackie Fitch and Gene Evers as stars. Other leads were Lou Williams, Pat DeMoss, Charles Sheen, and Dick Husmann.

And then we went to junior high! Outstanding memories of those days are the good times we had in the social periods our home rooms presented, the class picnic we had at Eagle Point, the gym frolic, the Junior Chatter we edited, the time Jack Bishop ran his sewing machine so fast that it smoked, when the boys took cooking and sewing for three weeks while the girls took shop. We were proud of our basketball team, too. Yes, Jim and Gene Burlingame, Jack (Reed, Dunmore, and Jowett), and Bill Jensen were athletes even then.

There was war on the horizon in September 1941, but we didn't see it. "I'm a little prairie flower" was the song we sang all during our first week as freshmen. Lipsticked faces, rolled-up trousers, shoes hung around our necks—yes, our class came in the "hard" way.

Electing Phil Kirkman, Bill Northcutt, Helen White, and Pat DeMoss to guide us, we started on our career. We helped ratify the present Student Government constitution with Jack Jowett, Ted Renkes, Lynn Shaff, and Carol Wagner as senators. Homecoming brought one of our biggest thrills as we took part in the bonfire, snake dance, and parade. Helen White was freshman attendant to the Homecoming queen and later to the Gateway Classic queen.

And then the war came! Undaunted, we sponsored a "Bomb Shelter Dance" setting a record as the first freshman class to sponsor a dance, and we really had a black out, too. Wake Island fell—then Bataan—and Corregidor. Our older brothers enlisted, we went out for sports, worried about an "F" in Latin, and tried not to think—too much.

Our sophomore year seemed tamer in comparison. We missed cars in the Homecoming parade, the banquets served in the cafeteria for clubs, and the giant Christmas tree by the front door, but we bought war stamps with a will and sang "Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition." We took driving courses, learned about A cards and wondered why it had to happen to us. Still, we had fun. "Hel" White was again our football, Homecoming, and Gateway Classic attendant, while "Pills" Temple, Dick Husmann, Gene Burlingame, and Howard Wegener were class officers.

As juniors, we presented "Letters to Lucerne," a play about the effect of the war on a girls' boarding school in Switzerland. Kathryn Lesher, Jackie Fitch, Helen White, Elizabeth Marshall, Lorraine Volckmann, Carol Wagner, Dorothy Thorsen, Doris Cozzens, Lynn Shaff, and Gene Evers took part. Phil Kirkman and Bill Northcutt were again heads of the class, and we all worked like dogs and loved every minute of it on the Homecoming dance, the Junior Carnival, and the Prom. Janice Archibald, our Homecoming attendant, and Gene Burlingame were queen and king of the Carnival, while Norma Ketelsen, our Gateway Classic attendant, and Jim Burlingame ruled over the Prom. Two days after the Prom, the Yanks invaded France. We sat with our ears glued to the radio and then went to summer school, trying to finish before we were eighteen.

Before it seemed possible, we were seniors, weighed down with responsibility. Although many already held jobs, more went to work, cutting down on extra-curricular activities. Others took tests for branches of the service and more preparatory courses. In spite of war restrictions on travel and equipment, we had an undefeated and always-to-be-remembered football season. Basketball and track won't be forgotten soon, either. Things like that game with Dubuque when Gene Burlingame tossed in the winning point at the last minute, homecoming with Betty Lou Williams as queen, Norma Ketelsen, senior attendant, and a crowd of 6000 watching us beat Davenport; the Gateway Classic with Betty Rosenberger as queen and Norma as attendant—these will always be in our hearts.

We have seen many changes in Clinton High. We have seen the addition of new shop courses, higher math, home management, and first aid. We have seen classmates leave and return in uniform. We have seen the pledge of allegiance begin every assembly since December 1941. We have gone to high school during the greatest war our country has ever fought. For only three months, our first three, did we attend a peace-time school, and we graduate into a war-torn world which we must help rebuild.

We take with us wonderful memories of friends we've made, good times we've had, and interesting things we've done. We take with us knowledge. We take with us a spirit of confidence that we can meet the requirements and changes that the world will demand as well as CHS has met the needs and changes brought by the world.

"Strive and you will achieve" is our class motto, and that is what we have learned in Clinton High. Although we are leaving, "our loyalty to you will never die, for you're our Alma Mater, Clinton High."

Government Of the Students,

The Senate is the high school's most important organization because it gives students a chance to learn and practice democracy and because it serves to unify, coordinate, and supervise all extra-curricular life in Clinton High. Officers are Richard Husmann, president; Philip Kirkman, vice president; Carol Wagner, secretary of state; Charles Foster, secretary of the treasury; Lawrence Petersen, attorney general. The president and vice president of each class automatically become members of the Senate and of the Cabinet along with the other officers of this body. The Cabinet aids the president in making decisions and serves as the committee on elections; thus it counts the votes on every school election. From each of the four classes six senators are elected each semester, and a bill clerk is appointed by the president. Senate met this year on Tuesdays during activity period in room 224. One chief adviser and four class advisers are selected at the beginning of each semester. For first semester were Leo Herkelmann, chief; Miss Mary East, senior; Thomas Robbins, junior; Mark McLarnan, sophomore; F. H. LePrevost, freshman. For second semester were Mr. Herkelmann, chief; Miss East, senior; Mr. McLarnan, junior; Miss Marguerite MacCulloch, sophomore; Miss Edith Birkett, freshman.

Senate sponsored a benefit dance for the March of Dimes from which $100 was turned over to that drive. War stamp sales were continued with mass meetings and campaigns to promote these. Senate established the activity calendar and supervised class and school elections of the Homecoming and Gateway Classic queens and attendants, and organized all Homecoming activities. A system for regulation of activity membership was adopted. Noon movies, records for noon dancing, and Penny a Week programs were selected by committees. Through the efforts of Senate, Clinton High joined the National Honor Award Society and the National Council of Student Governments. Senators acted as guides on New Student Day, May 10. Forty delegates went to the Youth Conferences at DeWitt, April 17. Senate gave a box social for present and former members of student government groups.

The Supreme Court is composed of a chief justice and four associates. Donald DeSirey was chief justice this year, and Lynn Shaff served as senior justice. For first semester the other associates were Jeanne Harvey, junior; Jack Klopp, sophomore; and William Vickerstaff, freshman. For second semester, Elaine Reisler was junior justice; Eric Hensel, sophomore; Duane Praschan, freshman. Members of the court are appointed by the president of the Senate and confirmed by the Senate. The Supreme Court is to check on the constitutionality of all measures passed by Senate, to interpret the student constitution, and to supervise the monitor system. The court met Thursdays after school to check bills. Cases of violations of the monitor rules were tried. Court advisers, selected by Senate, were Miss Marie Raun, who served both semesters; Miss Mercedes Abraham, first; and Miss Gladys Arnold, second semester.

The Monitors Club is formed for the purpose of executing an efficient monitor system. The duties of a member are to keep the halls quiet and orderly during study and class periods, to assist with lunch-hour discipline, and to guide visitors. There have been thirty-seven members each semester. To become a monitor, a student must have passing grades, be regular in attendance, and be capable of working with both teachers and students. Meetings were held on the second and the fourth Tuesdays of the month. Officers for the year were Robert Vogel, president; Jack Jowett, vice president; Beverly Hall, secretary; Miss Margaret Keyes was adviser.

At Christmas, the girls made a star, a Christmas tree, and a bell besides using the usual formations. In one drill the girls carried flags. The club also marches in the city fall and spring openings.

A semi-formal dance, the Bunny Hop, was given in March, and the decorations

Let's All Sing

All vocal music is under the direction of Miss Marjorie Graybill.

A Capella Choir is the largest vocal group in the school and has had the most performances. With a membership of sixty-eight there were seven bass, ten tenor, twenty alto and thirty-one soprano voices. In order to become members, students try out before the director, and one year's participation in vocal music is a prerequisite. Appearances of choir included two performances for Kiwanis, one for Rotary, the Easter and Christmas Student Club-Hi-Y services, memorial service for President Roosevelt, concert for assembly, annual spring concert, baccalaureate, and commencement. The accompanist has been Elizabeth Van Epps. The officers are Hilton Simpson, general manager; Marian Work, secretary; JoAnne Bliesmer, librarian. Concessions were sold at football and basketball games for the purchasing of necessities such as six new choir robes. A point system is kept for members by the secretary. Those with 750 points earned letters. They were Hilton Simpson, Almuth Haase, Kathryn Abshire, Marian Work, Bernetta Hook, Patricia Marshall, Ednabelle Drury, Marilyn Bockel, Alicemarie Nielsen, Janet Goodsman, Anne Saxton, and Mary Ellen Jones. Those who have 1000 points earned a charm. They were Norma Bailey, Kathryn Bates, JoAnne Bliesmer, Gloria Justis, Marilyn Jessen, Jaclyn Fitch, Virginia Simmons, Joyce Petersen, Lorraine Volckmann, Elizabeth Van Epps, Helen White, Carol Wagner, and Winifred Wallace.

Glee Club is composed of sixty-seven girls selected by try-outs before the director. Performances were in assembly, the annual spring concert, and the assembly concert; also they caroled in the downtown district with the choir at Christmas time. Glee Club has met this year at 7:45 on Mondays and on Thursdays during first period. The accompanist was Gloria Justis.

Freshman Choir has fifty-five members. Their appearances were in the assembly during Education Week, the assembly concert, the annual spring concert and on New Student Day. Both Freshmen Choir and a Capella sang carols in the halls the day before Christmas vacation. The accompanist was Elizabeth Van Epps.

The Senior Sextette has had about twenty appearances this year, appearing before assemblies, many civic clubs and organizations and at the DeWitt Conference. Members are Joyce Petersen, Gloria Justis, sopranos; Marilyn Jessen, Gloria Swanson, second sopranos; Lorraine Volckmann, Carol Wagner, altos. The sophomore Sextette, carried over from last year, appeared about fifteen times. Members are Cabinet heads are Norma Bailey and Alicemarie Nielsen, dramatics; Elizabeth Van Epps and Marilyn Jessen, music; Joan Gool, ring; JoAnne Bliesmer, social; Phyllis Broadwater, finance; Ednabelle Drury and Elizabeth Marshall, program; Betty Lou Williams and Betty Rosenberger, publicity; Marilyn Junge, reporter; Roberta Nicholson, senior representative; Kathryn Abshire, junior; Cheral Petersen, sophomore; and Mary Lou Iversen, freshman.

Regular meetings at school were on the second and fourth Tuesdays during activity period. There were special themes for meetings and speakers for some.

On October 5 officers were presented and members signed up, while on November 6 planning sheets were issued, and November 20, Kathryn Lesher and Ednabelle Drury reported on summer camp at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. The last November program concerned inferiority complexes and the high school girl. In December the club had a holiday hour with special music and sponsored a worship service with Hi-Y at which Reverend M. E. Lesher spoke. January programs issued a New Year's challenge, "We Dare You," and celebrated "exam" period. In February programs were "How To Understand Parents," and an I.Q. fun stunt. A club Easter program and a worship service for the entire school with Reverend Verne Spindell as the speaker were given in March. During April there was a panel on boy-girl problems and a joint meeting with Bachelors' Club to discuss the results of a questionnaire. In May, Mrs. Walter McMahon talked at a Silver Anniversary meeting, and a "Stay in School" program was held.

At the Y.M.C.A. the girls held a scavenger hunt and a dance in November, "The Holly Hop" in December, a Valentine Dance called "Cupid's Carnival," and a Silver Anniversary semi-formal in May. The girls gave clothing to a needy family, gave five dollars to the Chinese Relief fund, and served on Milk Bar committees. Groups took part in the "Hanging of the Greens" and a pageant, in April, called "The Times Demand."

They Give C. H. S. the News and Yearbook

Bi-Weekly was published sixteen times with special color at Homecoming, Christmas, and Easter. Cuts were used in every issue but one.

Heading the staff were Carol Wagner, editor; Frances Reade, associate editor; Darlyne Wells, feature page editor; and Doris Voged, business manager.

Advanced reporters were the four staff members, who carried regular beats all year, Marilyn Thomas, Elizabeth Marshall, Norma Ketelsen, Lynn Shaff, Margaret Leland, and Jacqueline Esprey. Marilyn changed to yearbook staff second semester, while Norma, Lynn, Margaret, and Jacqueline reported first semester only. Beginning reporters for second semester were Ruth Domsalla, Shirley Andrews, Jean Specht, Diane LaBatt, Ralph Rehwoldt, and Newton Baird.

Robert Garrett, Ted Renkes, Cleo Ploen, and Nora Nielsen collected advertising copy, each for a semester. Gary Melendy worked on a few issues. Herbert Hanger and Frances Reade collected money for advertising, and Joan Best served all year as carrier; Robert Beswick and Kent Fishwild carried for a time, too. Doris Voged served in every capacity in the business department from carrier to collector and did the bookkeeping for the publication assisted by Miss Eunice Blackburn, adviser. The activity received no money from the activity ticket fund for the second year and maintained a fund of over $200 with which equipment is to be purchased after the war.

Bi-Weekly received a rating of "good" in its group on the eight issues published during first semester in the National Scholastic Press contest.

Quill and Scroll members may be selected from either newspaper or yearbook. They must be juniors or seniors, rank in the upper third of their class scholastically, and have done outstanding work in writing, editing, or business. In Clinton High, a hundred inches of printed copy has been a requirement for newspaper candidates.

Ann Kiel became a member of Quill and Scroll this year. Frances Reade, Carol Wagner, Doris Voged, Darlyne Wells, Elizabeth Marshall, Lynn Shaff and Marilyn Thomas received membership cards and pins last year. The group has been inactive this year.

"C" pins are given for one hundred fifty inches of copy printed in one year. Frances Reade and Marilyn Thomas earned them this year. Carol Wagner and Darlyne Wells each earned their second pins.

Marilyn Thomas, editor of the 1945 Clintonian Yearbook, supervised the class and faculty sections, organized the theme, and made general plans for the book. Ann Kiel, assistant editor, took and sized pictures, made layouts, and worked on activities section. Patricia Marshall typed copy, while Phyllis Swartz checked names for classes, clubs, and sports pictures. Marian Work wrote articles for activities section. Ted Renkes sold advertising. Doris Voged handled the circulation of the books.

Three art students submitted theme drawings for "Books," the theme of the 1945 book, and those by Jaclyn Fitch were selected and used. Carol Wagner wrote a short class history of the seniors.

The purpose of the Hi-Y groups is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community Christian fellowship and to be of service in any job for the betterment of the school and community.

The Hi-Y's are divided into four groups—Alpha, Beta, Kappa, and Frosh. The four groups cooperated with Student Club to put on Christmas and Easter services.

Alpha is the original Hi-Y, the first to be chartered in Clinton High School. Alpha meets every other Tuesday at the Y.M.C.A. to hear adult speakers and educational programs with Kappa. Officers were Robert Temple, president; Philip Kirkman, vice president; Kenneth Snyder, secretary-treasurer; Frank Dippo, chaplain; and Robert Leedham, sergeant-at-arms; Doctor Richard Emmons, adviser.

Beta Hi-Y meets on the first and third Thursday of the month in study hall A under the supervision of Thomas Robbins. Beta's activities for this year included painting toys for the poor, collecting magazines to be given out at the Sustaining Wings Canteen, a hay-ride, and a weiner roast. It also boasted of being the basketball champion both semesters of the Y.M.C.A. Officers are Don DeSirey, president; Dick Price, vice president; Edward Howes, secretary-treasurer; and Gene Petersen, chaplain.

Kappa Hi-Y has been one of the foremost in carrying out the ideals and forging ahead to stress the principle of Hi-Y. The members enjoyed a talk by the manager of the Coca Cola Company in Clinton, a discussion on "Police Identification" by Officer Clancy, a talk on leadership by Reverend Bruce McCullough, and a movie on the reconditioning program at Schick Hospital. Kappa also had a traditional hay-ride and dance. George Hensel, Donald Nielsen and Leonard Eble, adviser, went to a Hi-Y conference in Loretto, Minnesota. The conference, which is held every two years, took place May 11-13. States represented were Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, North and South Dakota. From Canada a delegation was sent from Brandon, Fort William, Winnipeg and Sioux

Science Club

Science Club was reorganized this year under the direction of Thomas Robbins, physics instructor, to promote interest in science in Clinton High School.

The members worked on individual projects and had open discussion, lectures, and demonstrations on the various sciences which were of interest to the members. They meet on the first and third Mondays and the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month.

Honor Society Makes Scholarship Important

This year C.H.S. joined the National Honor Society whose purpose is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character.

In order to become a member of the society one must be in the upper third of his class. Membership is also based on scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Not more than five per cent of the junior class was chosen and not more than ten per cent of the graduation class.

Seniors who were honored are Eugene Burlingame, Patricia DeMoss, Jaclyn Fitch, Richard Husmann, John Jowett, Marilyn Junge, Philip Kirkman, Kathryn Lesher, Elizabeth Marshall, William Northcutt, Frances Reade, Theodore Renkes, June Swanson, Robert Vogel, Carol Wagner, Howard Wegener, Darlyne Wells.

Juniors are Charles Foster, Jeanne Hayes, George Hensel, Ann Kiel, Walter McMahon, Kenneth Mounce, Joyce Petersen, and Marian Work.

Officers are Theodore Renkes, president; George Hensel, vice president; June Swanson, secretary; Leo Herkelmann, faculty treasurer; Miss Marguerite MacCulloch, Miss Mary East, Miss Edith Birkett, and Mr. Herkelmann, sponsors.

Bachelors' Club, whose sponsor is Miss Isabelle Streib, has a membership of fifty-five senior boys. The meetings were held on the second and fourth Thursdays of every month. They featured discussions, motion pictures, and speakers. The officers are Eugene Burlingame, president; Donald Witt, vice president; Jack Dunmore, secretary-treasurer; the executive board consists of David Baldwin, Ralph LeMar, and Jack Reed.

The purpose is to foster self-improvement; to build and develop personalities; to offer service to the school and to the community. This club has baled waste paper and presented the sum of $21.50, the money earned by selling it, to the Sustaining Wings Canteen. On April 12 the members compiled a questionnaire on "what do girls want and think of boys." These were filled out by the members of Student Club. In a joint Student Club-Bachelors' Club meeting, April 24, the compiled lists of answers were presented by Student Club girls. In the May 24 meeting a talk on "Guide Posts for Married Life" was given. The annual dinner-dance was held March 20, and "Ky" Petersen, Sheriff of Clinton County, addressed the group on "Youth of Today," and Jack Stillings gave a demonstration of magic tricks.

They Study Their Neighbors in Latin America

Pan American League, which has a charter from the National Pan American League whose headquarters is in Miami, Florida, is organized to bring about better understanding, respect, and cooperation among the American republics so that all American people may live and work together in a spirit of peace and good will. The charter was granted in November 1941 when Spanish was introduced in Clinton High School.

This year the club decided to concentrate on one or two countries and chose Mexico and Guatemala because they were near neighbors. At the regular meetings, which were on the third Thursday of each month in the auditorium, reports were given on the history, geography, and economics of the selected countries. Films were shown during December on Mexico in connection with a Spanish fiesta in the cafeteria featuring a Mexican "La Pinata." In March, films were shown on Mexico, Guatemala, and the Amazon. Afterward, a fiesta was held in the cafeteria where music was furnished by Mexican railroad workers who were studying English in night school classes. Refreshments and program were enjoyed by seventy members and guests.

Pan American members have corresponded with students in Latin American countries. This started with the Travelography Club and was continued by members of the League. Approximately sixty-five students are now engaged in correspondence, and the club expects to receive a special award from the national organization for this activity.

Members of the League and others interested in international understanding signed a document calling for universal observance of the seventeenth annual World Fellowship, April 21-29. The proclamation called upon everyone to unite in a world-wide effort to plan and to promote educational activities that will definitely contribute to the advancement of inter-racial and international understanding and good will.

The League drew up a new constitution under the direction of Frances Briggs, Jeanne Hayes, Lela Hoffman, and Lois Sley. On a nominating committee this spring were Roberta Nicholson, Ruth Domsalla, Janet Schmitz, and Mary Scott.

Officers for the year were Walter McMahon, president; Coralie Meissner, vice president; Dorothy Floyd, secretary. Misses Edith Bach and Marie Hartmann, teachers of Spanish and Latin, are the advisers.

The only requirement for membership is the payment of twenty-five cents in dues and an interest in Pan American relations.

They're Interested in Roman Life and Culture

Latin Club, which meets on the first Thursday of the month, is open to anyone taking Latin or to anyone who has taken this subject. The purpose of the club is to increase the interest of students in the classical languages and literature and to promote interest in the culture of Greek and Roman civilization.

The main event is the Latin banquet at which the members dress and eat, as the Romans did, without silverware. The highlight of the evening was a review of The Scarlet Lily by Mrs. George Morden. The banquet began with a processional around the school. A skit "Judgment of Paris" was presented also. Those in the skit were Charles Fenlon, Kathleen Farley, Joyce Tolson, Joan Peters, Robert Beswick, and Kenneth Hagge. Richard Tingleff presided as Julius Caesar. Freshman boys who served as slaves were James Lesher, Robert Jowett, William Harris, David Munson, Allen Justis, and William Vickerstaff. Wreaths of flowers, made by members, were placed on the heads of guests by the slaves. The committee planning the banquet were Betty Munson, Walter McMahon, Delores Vorbeck, Shirley Hall.

Those who have just joined the club for the first year are pledges. Pledges are allowed to attend the meetings but not allowed to vote. Officers are Betty Munson and Delores Vorbeck, (consuls) presidents; Marilyn Junge, (scriba) secretary; Elizabeth Van Epps, (quaestor) treasurer; Richard Tingleff and Walter McMahon, (curile aediles) program chairmen; Miss Edith Bach and Miss Marie Hartmann.

Little Theatre Helps With Our Entertainment

Little Theater is organized to enable students to develop a keener appreciation of good drama and acting by means of reading, lectures, participation, and observation; to offer opportunities for developing natural ability through work and production; to encourage a sense of responsibility and spirit of co-operation through activities as cast, crew, or on production committee; to help the war effort whenever possible.

The members presented innumerable assembly skits, two three-act plays, Spider Island and Intimate Strangers, and a variety show which consisted of seventeen separate events. The plan for the year consisted of the presentation of a number of one-act plays directed and presented by students who are members of the club under the supervision of Miss A.

Beatrice Hansen. Three of the one-act plays presented here were In the Suds, Cassandra, and Creepy Inn. Members of the club participated in assembly programs during the year, producing skits weekly during football and basketball season. The total number of students who participated during the year was one hundred thirty. Points toward membership are earned by participation in skits, plays, and programs as well as by acting on production committees. Three points make one a pledge member; twelve, an active member.

The club meets every third Thursday of the month in room 203 at eight o'clock.

Officers were Howard Wegener, president; Elizabeth Marshall, vice president; Frances Briggs, secretary-treasurer.

Delores Vorbeck, Carol Wagner, Helen White, Marjorie Gilbert, Anne Saxton. (not in picture, Elizabeth Marshall).

"Spider Island" by Joseph Spalding, a thrill-packed mystery, was presented October 31, a fitting date since it was Hallowe'en. The plot concerns two elderly sisters who live in an old lighthouse away from the mainland. When two girls of the modern world drop in, the sisters are amazed at the "new-fangled inventions" that the girls describe, such as the radio. Mystery surrounds an axe and Daniel, brother of the Mayo women.

Abbie Mayo was played by Carol Wagner, and Salem, her sister, by Elizabeth Marshall. A hired girl, Dullie Peabody, was played by Anne Saxton. The parts of Star Mayo and her friend were taken by Helen White and Marjorie Gilbert. Delores Vorbeck portrayed an old crone, Meg Crosby.

On stage crew were Merlin Helferich, Ralph McLarnan, Edward Thomas, Gene Ugarph, and Bruce Cleworth. On properties committee were Norma Petrehn, Betty Nissen, and Joan Anderson.

Booth Tarkington's "The Intimate Strangers" was the production given in March. Isabel Stuart and a lawyer meet in a railway station when spring floods tie up traffic. Later, at her home, complications arise when Florence, a niece, tries to captivate Mr. Ames. Johnnie White, disgusted with Florence, turns his affections to Miss Stuart.

In the cast were Joyce Petersen as Isabel Stuart, Donald J. Wilson as William Ames, Mary Lou Iversen as Florence and Robert Beswick as Johnnie. Kenneth Mounce played the stationmaster; Ann Saxton, Mattie; and George Hensel, Henry, the hired man.

On stage crew were Bruce Cleworth, David Fronde, Merlin Helferich, Ralph McLarnan, Elmer Stevens, and Edward Thomas. On properties, were Mary Louise Lesher, Betty Nissen, Norma Petrehn, Elmer Stevens, and Norma Walsh.

The Variety Show, given May 11, was in the form of "truth or consequences." Master of ceremonies was Richard Lake, and Donald J. Wilson assisted. When students did not give the correct answer, they paid a consequence, usually by exhibiting a special talent. Appearing in the program were Elmer Stevens, clarinet solo; Jack Jowett and Chester Butler, piano solos; Robert Porter and Helen White, vocal solos; William Northcutt, hula dance; Robert Temple, imitation of Jimmy Durante; Harold Lutz, interpretation of a nightmare; Ruth Dale and other drum majorettes, demonstration with batons; Rosemary Robinson, violin solo, and Ethel Hoover, bass viol solo. Special numbers were a one-act play, "The Creepy Inn," a choral reading of "The Mountain Whippoorwill," and music by the Royal Bows.

Athletics

Adventuring through athletics offers wide opportunities. It may lead to a career in coaching or it may merely teach the pupil good sportsmanship.

Row 2—Joseph Haley, Theodore Stoik, Adam Bartz, William Jensen, Richard Price, Lloyd Stoik, Wayne Cady, Richard Ferguson, Raymond Hein, James McCullough, Clarence Klare.

Varsity Football

For the first time in ten years the Clinton High football team came through with an undefeated season, tying East Waterloo for the Mississippi Valley conference title.

In the first game against Iowa City, the River Kings opened the season with a smashing victory, 26-0. Jim Burlingame made a 45 yard run for the first touchdown, and Bob Vogel's 30 yard pass to Lutz accounted for the second. Burridge made one of his two touchdowns on a 45 yard run.

Clinton won over Kewanee, 19-7, with Burridge making the first two touchdowns. Vogel ran 38 yards for the third score in the last quarter.

The third victory was the defeat of Franklin, Cedar Rapids, 20-6. The highlight of that game was Burridge's 45 yard run for a touchdown in the first three minutes of play. It was Burridge again in the third quarter, recovering his own fumble and crossing the line. Larry Petersen plunged across the line for the third goal, and Lutz kicked the two extra points.

In the game with St. Ambrose of Davenport, the Kings walked off with a 40-7 victory. Jim Burlingame made one 80 yard run and another 90 yard run for two touchdowns. Jack Reed also made two long runs of 78 and 45 yards for two more scores. Then Vogel broke loose for a 35 yard run and the seventh touchdown of the evening. Larry Petersen made a score early in the game, and Lutz made three of the extra points.

Clinton was victorious over Roosevelt of Cedar Rapids, 26-0. Burridge made the first touchdown and advanced the ball 30 yards later in the game to get in scoring position. Ray Schumacher went over for the score. Burridge scored again and passed to Lutz for the extra point. It was Burridge on a pass again; this time the ball went to Gene Burlingame who scored another touchdown.

The River Kings beat Davenport for the first time in eight years in the Homecoming game, 25-6. Burridge made the four touchdowns of the game, and Lutz converted for the one extra point made.

Clinton High left Wilson, Cedar Rapids, on the short end of a 33-0 score. Reed led the scoring parade with two touchdowns, one a 79 yard run. Schumacher, Jim Burlingame, and Therol Petersen made the other three scores.

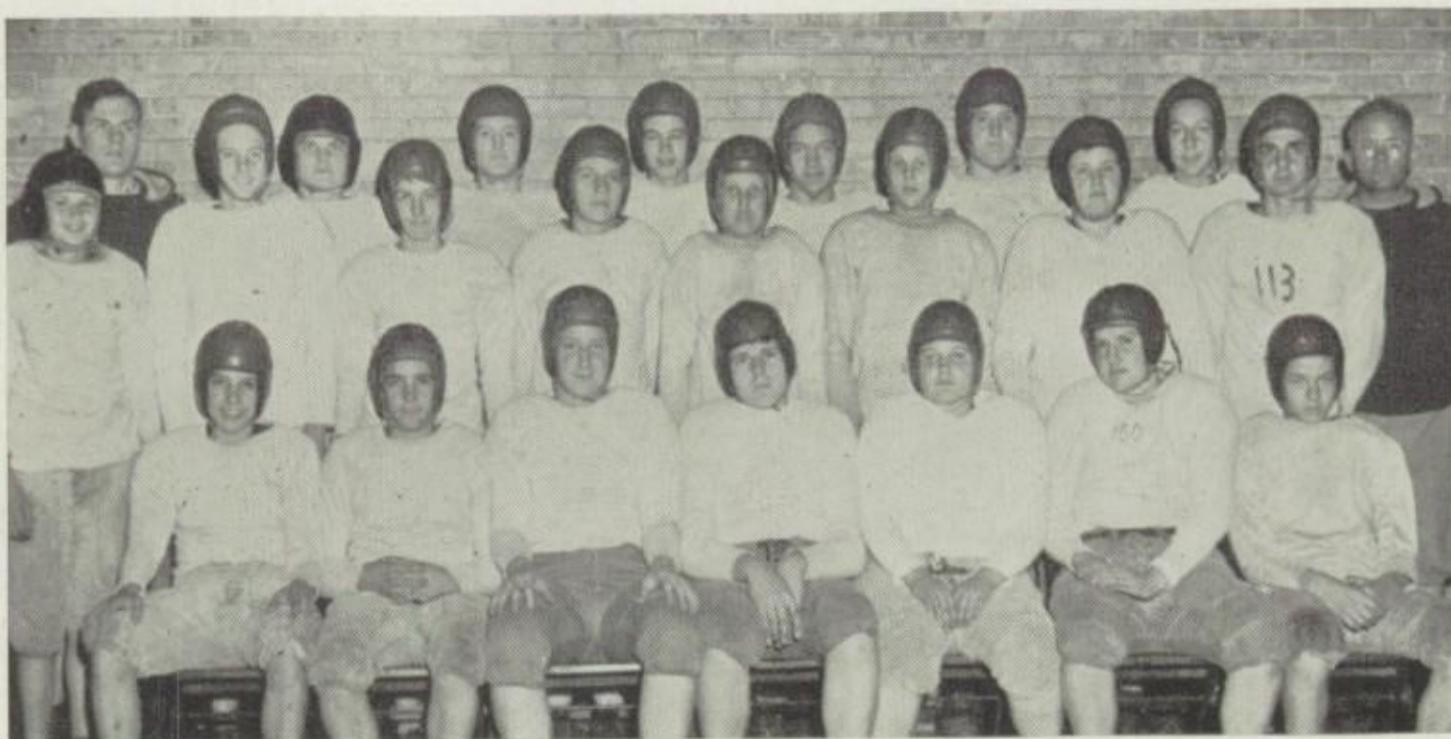

Clinton rounded out a perfect season with a win over Dubuque, 21-6. Burridge scored all the touchdowns, and all the extra points were made by running plays. Reed carried the ball once, and Jim Burlingame the other two times.

"Pat" Stoik and Dave Baldwin were elected as honorary co-captains at the end of the season.

Burridge was named on the first team by the Iowa Daily Press Association, and Stoik was named on the second all-state team. Gene Evers, Harold Lutz, Therol Petersen, Richard Price, and James Burlingame were given honorable mention.

Jack North, sports writer, picked Stoik for his first team, put Burridge on the second, and Burlingame on his third. On his honor roll were Price, Baldwin Lutz, and Ray Schumacher.

Sophomore

The sophomores won games with Fulton, St. Mary's, Davenport, and Sterling. The only break in the line of victories was when the DeWitt varsity defeated the team, 13-6. They won six of seven games played.

There were several large boys in the line, and the backfield worked hard for speed.

Donald Parker was named captain, and Coaches Howard Judd and Edward Mickey worked with the group.

Letters were awarded to twenty-nine boys.

Row 2—Gerald Kallenbach, Donald Nicholson, Arthur Sheller, Herbert Boegel, David Bonebrake, Albert Machael, William Hudson, John Holmes, Lyle Sawyer.

Freshman

The Freshman football team concluded its season with five victories and one tie. Of the four games played with Savanna, one was played in mud and another was played partly after dark. In the game played in the mud, the team did not score. The second game with Lyons was rated as much better than the first by the coach.

Twenty-three of the boys are letter men.

In Coach Howard Judd's opinion, the boys will make a good sophomore squad next year.

Ronald Kramer, reserve left end, was a good pass receiver and could get loose to receive the ball. He also developed into a good kicker. He might play either end or in the backfield.

Eugene Burlingame, right end, is tough and wiry and plays as though he is much heavier than he is. He blocked well and was hard to get around. He scored against Roosevelt, Cedar Rapids, on a pass.

David Baldwin, right tackle, was a good blocker and tackler, playing good ball in every game. He gave the team a lot of spirit, kicked off, and was elected as co-captain at the end of the season.

Robert Vogel, right half, was one of the faster backs. He could cutback very sharp. He got away in the Kewanee game for a 55 yard touchdown run. He tackled and blocked well, too.

Richard Price, center, was a fine passer. He made few mistakes and kept team plays running smoothly. He was a great defensive player, backing up the line with some deadly tackling.

Therol Petersen, substitute left end, played his first year of football. He was a fine pass receiver and became a good all-around player. He played in nearly every game and did best in the Dubuque game.

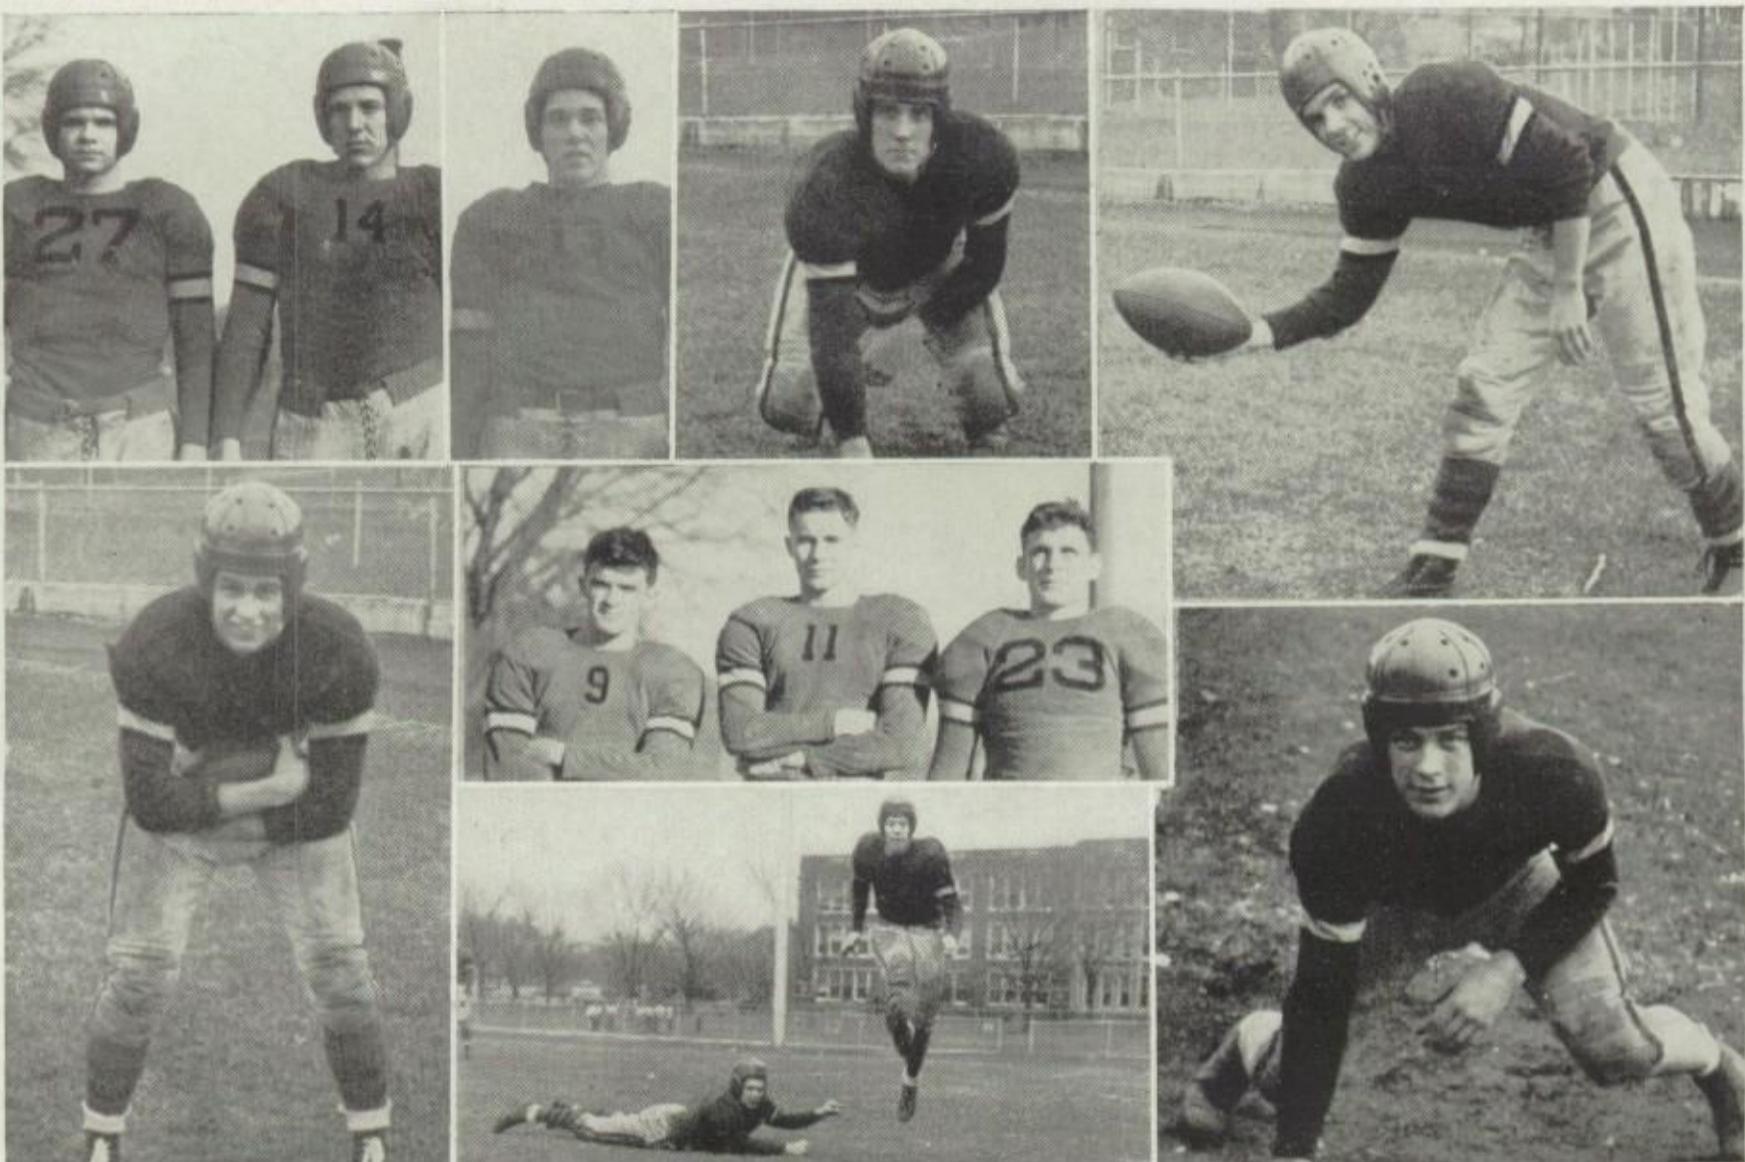

Ray Schumacher played offensive quarter back on the T formation. He was a nice ball handler, and it was hard to tell to whom he gave the ball. He backed up the line on defense and was a good tackler.

Harold Lutz, left end, was one of the best on his downfield blocking; this helped the backs to get away for long runs. He kicked off and kicked extra points. He was a good pass receiver. On defense he was hard to go around and to knock off his feet.

Gene Evers, left tackle, was a fine cross blocker, and the Kings scored many times through holes that he helped make. On defense he was steady. He was hard to take out and could figure out plays against him.

Jack Reed, right half, was a good left-handed passer. He was one of the best blockers on the team and was a fine defensive back. He also turned in some long runs for touchdowns as against St. Ambrose for 83 yards.

Wayne Cady, left guard and substitute for Stoik, had little experience when he started the season, but he made enough progress to become an all-around guard by the end of the season.

Edward Howes, substitute tackle, played in nearly every game, sometimes playing about half of the game. He could start fast and block well. He played well in the Iowa City game when he replaced Evers.

William Jensen, right guard, could start fast and was able to pull out of the line and lead the interference on sweeps. He was a good blocker on offense and a good defensive player. Very few yards were gained against him.

Leonard Vogel, fullback, was a hard-driving back who profited by this year's experience. He backed up the line well and could pass and kick off.

Lawrence Petersen, left half, was a fast moving back. He was at his best running off-tackle from the single wing formation with a cutback. He called signals in several games. A good all-around back.

Jack Jowett, reserve right tackle, had a lot of speed. Though this was his first year, he developed into a good tackle, steadily improving to the end of the season.

Donald DeSirey, quarterback, was a good ball handler from the front spot in the T formation. He also played halfback at times. He could hit his opponent hard.

James Burlingame, fullback, was the fastest man on the team and made several long runs for touchdowns. One was for 87 yards, another for 68 in the St. Ambrose game. He punted for the team and played right half on defense. Few passes were completed through him.

Dean Burridge, left half, called signals and acted as captain for the team. He could start fast and change directions very quickly. He scored in nearly every game in which he played but was at his best against Davenport, scoring four touchdowns.

Lloyd (Pat) Stoik, left guard, was a great blocker, and the backs scored time and time again through holes he helped make. When the going was tough, he would break through on defense to set the opponents back.

Ted Stoik, reserve center, was the only sophomore to make a letter. He developed into a good passer as the season went along. He backed up the line on defense well and should keep improving.

James Killean, reserve right guard, was a good defensive player and he should develop further. He made a lot of progress during the season. He substituted for Jensen.

Homecoming

Festivities started Thursday with a snake dance beginning in Roosevelt school yard, going through the downtown districts, and ending at the Capitol Theater where a pep rally was held with members of the Pep Club, the pep band, and guest speakers on the program.

Friday brought Hobo Day to C.H.S., and students roamed the halls all day dressed as tramps and in "gay Ninety" costumes, and several boys dressed as girls to offset the trend of girls in boys' clothes. After lunch the queen was crowned, and the whole student body joined their homeroom groups to parade with the floats they had prepared. Prize winners were juniors in Miss Davidson's and Miss Ebersole's home rooms; freshmen in Mr. McMahon's, and honorable mention to seniors in Mr. Herkemann's room.

Friday night brought the big event, and a large crowd had the thrill of seeing the River Kings victorious over the famed Blue Devils.

Candidates for queen are pictured below. The general committee, made up of faculty and students, was as follows: Richard Husmann, Philip Kirkman, Howard Wegener, George Hensel, Adam Bartz, Jack Holcomb, James Lesher, Marian Work, Janet Schmitz, and William Northcutt; faculty: Dorothy Seeser, Mary East, Hilaire LePrevost, and Max Lynn.

In the play against Dubuque High, Petersen brought the score up to a leading point in the third quarter, where the Kings remained till the end when a 30-24 score was chalked up.

The following night Clinton cagers traveled to Sterling where they lost the tilt, 35-32, although scores were chalked up close together by each team.

Clinton fought hard for the victory of 43-40 in its second game with Savanna. Burridge once more became high point maker, totaling 18 points. Vogel and Lutz did good work as forward and guard.

Iowa City bowed to Clinton in a 41-40 defeat. Watts was the outstanding player, handling the ball well and making the winning point after being fouled. Burridge made 17 points to be leading scorer.

From the beginning of the Davenport game when Watts and Price started Clinton off to a lead of 4-0, the Kings led. Burridge gained 12 points. Final score gave the Kings a 29-13 lead.

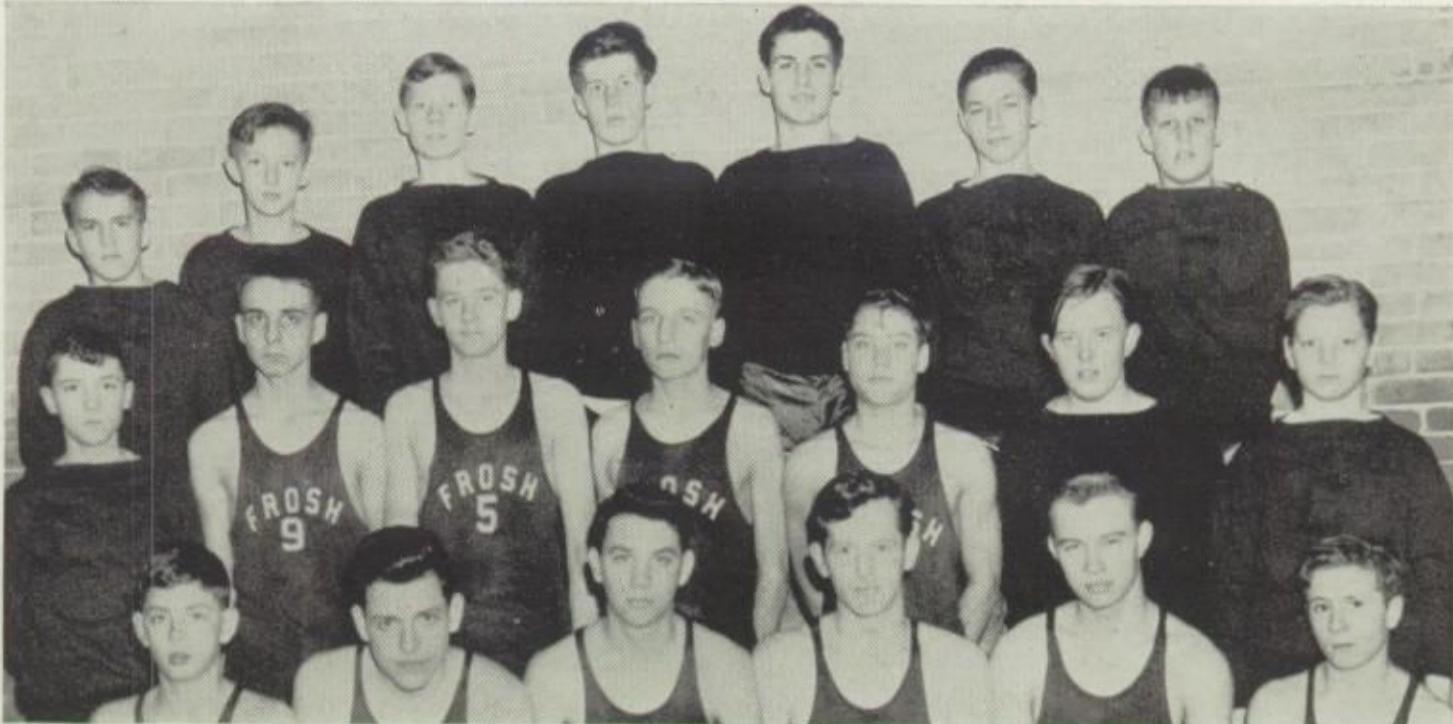

A rough game with Fulton ended in a 27-20 loss for Clinton. The Kings received 17 fouls, giving Fulton 20 charity shots. Clinton's high scorer was Lutz, who netted 8 points.

All-around teamwork enabled the Kings to trim Dubuque, 28-27. Lutz kept close watch on Kremer and allowed him to make only 6 points. Watts did good work on rebounds. Burlingame brought in the final score when he was given a free throw, ending the Ram's hope of a victory.

51-36 was the final score of the Clinton-St. Ambrose game. Petersen shot for 20 points in all. Good passing was the outstanding feature of the game.

Franklin High of Cedar Rapids led, with a final score of 26-24. Clinton did little scoring until the last half and could not overthrow Franklin.

Clinton's last game with Muscatine resulted in a 39-31 loss for the Kings. Burridge, Petersen, and Lutz tied in points, making 7 each.

Ending one of the best seasons in the history of freshman basketball, the 1944-45 team racked up a grand total of twenty-nine games played.

Fifteen schools were played, and fourteen games were in the Y.M.C.A. basketball league. Twelve schools were beaten, while the freshmen lost twice to Savanna and once to Goose Lake.

Schools beaten were DeWitt, Maquoketa twice, Lyons twice, Fulton twice, Elvira twice, and Goose Lake, in the second game. These defeats also included the sophomore reserves and the varsity reserves of Clinton High. In the Y.M. league, the freshmen won twelve games and lost only two.

The total score for the season was 1073 to their opponents' 696. The freshmen averaged 37 points per game to their opponents 24. The team used a straight man-to-man defense.
